

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE 1 DECEMBER 2017
ROYAL LIBRARY BRUSSELS BELGIUM

HOW TO START A FAMILY JUSTICE CENTER

One safe place for Hope and Empowerment

Development and support of integrated multidisciplinary centers and chain approach to create pathways to hope for victims of domestic violence and child abuse

Content:

The conference addresses a wide audience in the European context and is supported by the Belgian federal government in the context of the implementation of the Istanbul Convention. The Belgian government strongly supports the development of integrated multidisciplinary approach to domestic violence. Belgium is a leader in the development of Family Justice Centers in Europe.

The conference aims to provide insight into the functioning, opportunities and added value of the Family Justice Centers and affiliated multi-agency models from various perspectives: women's support, health care, perpetrator programs, child abuse advocacy, justice, police and government.

During the sessions different tools, methodologies and trainings will be presented, as basis for development of Family Justice Centers and related multi-agency approach and for implementing training and tools in the work of these centers.

The conference ends with the possibility to get to know the European FJCs, the work of the European Family Justice Center Alliance and the opportunity for networking and exchange.

Target group:

Cooperators, stakeholders and directors of Family Justice Centers and multi-agency approach of domestic violence and child abuse, EC and EU mandates, federal, regional and local policy, women's aid, victim services, perpetrator programs, police, justice, health sector, mental healthcare, child advocacy, youth care, training centers, universities and research centers.
